

Between the Lines* Book Study Participation Guidelines

- Individuals purchase their own materials for personal use.
- Participants are encouraged to share their personal experiences with the book.
- The facilitator is just that, a facilitator of the conversation.
- Unless registered for University credit, participants are not required to actively participate. All participants seeking credit will equally contribute to the discussion.
- Comments on the author's style and effectiveness of the presentation of the information in the book are welcome.
- Become each other's coaches. When someone shares how they will change their practice, follow-up with support.
